The American Falls are 56 meters high and have 328-meter crest. Approximate age of the falls is 12,000 years. MONTREAL - ALBANY, USA (4 HOURS)

We will enter USA today and stay in Albany.

DAY 5
ALBANY - NEW YORK CITY

Total driving time is 3 hours

New York is a city of such extremes that any visitor would be hard pressed to describe it without resorting to superlatives. Words like biggest and best come to mind when referring to America's most populated city, the superlatives are not always positive though. The enormous number of people, pace of life and stark urban landscape contribute to an often grim and sometimes frustrating experience when walking along its streets. Despite problems common to any major city, New York attracts 34 million visitors each year to its man-made canyons.

New York City is a series of islands that embrace five boroughs, or administrative districts: Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond (Staten Island) and the Bronx.

Both the Dutch and English spent years quarreling over the rights to Manhattan after its official discovery in 1609 by Englishman Henry Hudson (the Hudson River's namesake), who navigated the area's water ways. Fifteen years later, it was the Dutch who claimed the area by principal colony of New Netherlands. Two years later Peter Minuit, sailing with the Dutch West India Company, finagled the purchase of Manhattan from the local Indians for trinkets worth about 60 guilders, or $24. The English returned in 1664 and, angered by their trade rivalries with the Dutch in Europe, seized New Amsterdam. A more autocratic form of government was instituted, and the area was renamed New York after King Charles II's brother, the Duke of York.
